DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's declaration under 37 CFR 1.131 filed November 21, 2005 have been entered. The outstanding rejections under 35 USC 102(a) are withdrawn in view of the declaration filed November 21, 2005.

The provisional double patenting rejections are maintained. Applicant's remarks with regard to the provisional double patenting rejections are acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US 3,761,488 ('488) and US 5,707,929 (929).

'488 teaches 3-isothiazolones, especially 2-n-octyl-4-isothiazolin-3-one as effective as fungicides and algaecide (See col. 16 – 18, especially col. 18, Table V).

'929 teaches the combination of IPBC and IRGAROL as useful as fungicide and algaecide (See the abstract and col. 2, lines 3-60). '929 teaches the effective range of IPBC and IRGAROL as 0.004 to 2.0% active concentration (See col. 4, lines 54-59).

The references do not expressly teach a composition with IPBC, IRGAROL and 2-n-octyl-4-isothiazolin-3-one, in the weight ratio herein claimed, together.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to incorporate the composition of '488 and '929, in the herein claimed weight ratio, together.

One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to incorporate the composition of '488 and '929, in the herein claimed weight ratio, together. Combining two or more agents, which are known to be useful as fungicide and algaecide individually, into a single composition useful for the very same purpose is prima facie obvious (See In re Kerkhoven 205 USPQ 1069).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
